

Sherry Maysonave

Author of The Year — 2025 International Impact Book Awards — Historical Fiction

Winner 30+ book awards. Motivational speaker. Expert in nonverbal communication. Sherry Maysonave has been interviewed by over 200 TV, Radio, and print publications across the U.S., Canada, and Europe. This includes multiple appearances on NBC's Today, ABC, CBS, Fox, and NPR radio. Sherry has been featured in USA Today, Financial Times, Wall Street Journal, New Yorker Magazine, InStyle, and BusinessWeek.

Passionate about helping others achieve success, Sherry is the founder and president of Empowerment Enterprises and Empowerment Productions. Her clients include business professionals as well as nationally known political figures and entertainers. Her corporate clients are wide-ranging, including US and international companies in technology, finance, fashion, law, oil and gas, pharmaceutical, and professional-services companies.

Sherry's biographic historical fiction book, Tatae's Promise: You will live... you will tell, co-authored with Moises J. Goldman, PhD, has won fourteen (14) awards. It is based upon a true, never-before-told story of a young Jewish woman and her daring escape from Auschwitz with her sister. This award-winning book and Amazon category best-seller is a remarkable saga of courage, family, faith, and enduring love. Awards include the 2024 Hemingway Gold Award from the Historical Fiction Company, the International Impact Book Award winner for Biographic Historical Fiction and the 2024 PenCraft Book Award for literary excellence in Historical Fiction.

Sherry's first book, Casual Power – How to Power Up Your Nonverbal Communication and Dress Down for Success, was an Amazon category best-seller in non-fiction. Sherry is the author and producer of the DVD series, Brand a Positive Business Image.

Her first children's book, an Apple i-book, —EggMania: Where's the Egg in Exactly?— won five (5) awards. Sherry's debut novel, The Girl Who Could Read Hearts, has garnered fifteen (15) awards, including Gold Medal in the Readers' Favorite International Awards.

Sherry has a Bachelor of Science degree in Education from East Texas A&M University. She has studied psychology at the graduate level, and she has multiple credentials in image, communication, and personal development.

Sherry and her husband, Stephen, live on Lake Travis in Austin, Texas. They both enjoy spending time with their seven grandchildren, traveling, and participating in angel investments that support social-impact companies.

For more information, go to www.SherryMaysonave.com and www.TataesPromise.com